

Custom Content Opt-In Usage Disclaimer and Waiver

Type to Learn Cloud offers an "opt-in" feature otherwise known as "Custom Content". Usage of this feature requires advance thought and understanding by a subscribing user, including the acknowledgements contained here as accepted by appropriately authorized personnel.

By design, Custom Content is intended to:

- to facilitate the loading of content and the resulting organization of such content to enable the imported content's use within assigned instructional routines for keyboarding proficiency by authorized personnel;
- authorized staff are responsible to make sure that only age and instructionally appropriate content is imported into Type to Learn Cloud;
- upon usage, authorized personnel have been advised that they must play an active, supervisory role in ensuring that the Custom Content's quality control, monitoring and permissions clearances are obtained and remain consistent with all content imported.

By opting in to this feature, a subscribing user has duly acknowledged by the signature below of the user's acceptance of full and complete responsibility for:

- Ensuring that all necessary rights, clearances and permissions to lawfully utilize any such imported content into Type to Learn Cloud have been secured prior to usage, including any and all fees associated with such usage;
- Full and complete monitoring of the tone and composition of all Custom Content for any undesirable instances of indecency, obscenity and other potentially harmful and/or divisive text or speech which could be considered offensive to any student or the school community;
- Any resultant FCC violations which may arise (intended or otherwise) through the user's non-compliance with the provisions as described and acknowledged here;

I, the undersigned, acknowledge and accept that our school and school organization, not Sunburst Digital, are exclusively responsible for the opt-in responsibilities as identified here.

I further acknowledge that our opt-in usage comes with a full understanding that Sunburst Digital assumes no responsibility (express or implied) for oversight of any of these responsibilities.

Our organization will hold harmless and indemnify Sunburst Digital from any and all claims in the event that any usage of inappropriate or unauthorized Custom Content occurs.
